

The African life is under assault

This is a platform for Africans to talk about who they are as dignified people.